

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY
School of Education and Human Development
Department of Educational Psychology website:
<http://epsy.tamu.edu>

Assistant/Associate Clinical Professor of School Psychology

The Department of Educational Psychology at Texas A&M University announces an Assistant/Associate Clinical Professor position within an APA-accredited School Psychology Program. We seek a faculty member with impactful teaching experiences and who is licensed to practice as a psychologist and school psychologist in the state of Texas. The successful applicant will join a team of nationally recognized faculty with expertise in diversity science and a record of external funding to support their research and outreach activities. Applicants should have experience providing clinical supervision, evidence of high-quality graduate teaching and mentoring, and dedication to a program of research. The program and department are especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their research, teaching, and/or service.

The School Psychology Program (<http://spsy.tamu.edu>) is housed in the Department of Educational Psychology (<http://epsy.tamu.edu>), along with programs in Counseling Psychology (APA accredited), Special Education, Bilingual/ESL Education, Research, Measurement, and Statistics, and Learning Sciences. The School Psychology Program also has strong ties with Texas A&M University's Psychology Department as well as the School of Public Health. The department and university provide a stimulating and supportive environment for research, teaching, and programmatic funding with a strong value on collaborative and interdisciplinary research. Bryan/College Station is a diverse community of 250,000 residents that offers a variety of cultural and recreational opportunities and is convenient to major metropolitan areas.

Major Responsibilities

1. Provide clinical supervision for School Psychology and Counseling Psychology doctoral students
2. Work collaboratively with clinic staff
3. Maintain a coherent program of research that will impact child psychology/ the profession of school psychology.
4. Supervise graduate student research.
5. Seek external funding to support clinical research, personnel preparation, and/or outreach.
6. Provide professional service at state and national levels and institutional service at program, department, and school/college levels.
7. Teach, provide clinical supervision, and mentor graduate students.
8. Work to extend clinical research efforts to diverse populations.

Qualifications

1. Earned doctorate (Ph.D.) in School Psychology, Clinical Psychology, or a related field
2. Licensure as a Psychologist or Eligible for licensure as a Psychologist in Texas
3. Experience in clinical settings with evidence of patient data management, case assignment, and supervision
4. Evidence of success or strong potential for securing external clinical funding
5. Commitment to teaching, research, and service that includes individuals from diverse backgrounds
6. Commitment to collegiality and collaboration

Appointment:

This is a nine-month academic professional track appointment beginning August 2023. Salary and start-up package are competitive and commensurate with rank, qualifications, and evidence of clinical experience.

Interested applicants must apply through the Texas A&M University faculty job board hosted by Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/110874> and upload the following:

1. A letter of application documenting qualifications for the position and summarizing the impact of their contributions in research, teaching, and service
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. One preprint or reprint representative of scholarly peer-reviewed publication
4. Names and Contact information for three individuals to be contacted for letters of recommendation
5. Diversity impact statement
6. 2 Course Syllabi
7. 1 Course Evaluation Summaries

The review process will begin October 1, 2022 and applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Please address inquiries to the attention of Daniel B. Hajovsky, Ph.D., Search Committee Chair (email: dhajovsky@tamu.edu).

---

“Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.”

“Texas A&M is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/ Veterans/ Disability Employer committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment. Applications from women, minorities, and members of other underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged and will be actively sought. The University is aware that attracting and retaining exceptional faculty often depends on meeting the needs of two careers and therefore implements policies that contribute to work-life balance.”

Abbreviated Position Description

The Department of Educational Psychology at Texas A&M University announces an Assistant/Associate Clinical Professor position within an APA-accredited School Psychology Program. We seek a faculty member with impactful teaching experiences and who is licensed to practice as a psychologist and school psychologist in the state of Texas. All application materials can be submitted electronically at <https://epsy.tamu.edu/about/employment-opportunities/>. The review process will begin October 1, 2022 and applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Please address inquiries to the attention of Daniel B. Hajovsky, Ph.D., Search Committee Chair (email: dhajovsky@tamu.edu).